This Cabin Classic was originally built in the early 1900s and was used by sportsmen at Reem's Resort on Big Pine Lake before World War I and as a bunk house for the Welton Logging outfit around World War II. It was moved to its present location on Big Pine in the 1940s and was added on in 1948 and 1953. Recent renovations have exposed the original cabin exterior and it has been modernized with conveniences the original builders could only dream of. Experience the days of yesteryear but with modern day comforts.
